

At Moorefield Park Childcare Centre, we prioritise the safety and wellbeing of every child, including those who are Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, children with disabilities, and those from diverse cultural and linguistic backgrounds.

We foster an environment where all children, regardless of family background, ethnicity, age, gender identity, sexual orientation, religious beliefs, or ability, feel valued, respected, and protected from harm.

Our commitment to child safety is unwavering, with a zero-tolerance policy towards any form of child abuse. All staff and volunteers undergo comprehensive training on our organisational expectations, policies, and procedures. They are fully aware of their duty to promptly report any concerns regarding child safety and well-being to the appropriate people and authorities.

Moorefield Park Childcare Centre is dedicated to creating an inclusive and culturally safe space for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children. We deeply respect their cultural heritage and encourage both children and their families to celebrate and share their cultural traditions within our centre.

The safety and well-being of every child under our care will always remain our utmost priority.
